Remember those moments in your childhood when your parents commanded you to tell someone that you were sorry about something that you had done or said? Or to say “Thank you” to someone who had helped you? BUT you didn’t FEEL like it! You probably learned that you sometimes need to do something that is good and right EVEN IF you don’t feel like it! Hopefully we have grown and matured to the point that we usually want to and feel like doing what is good and right. But even if we don’t feel like it at times, it is still good to do what we should even if it is solely out of obedience. In this Thanksgiving season, I give thanks to God daily because I am told to do so, but EVEN MORE SO because I really want to in view of all that He has done for me. How about you?
