During May, June, and July you will find the Yarrow, achillea millefolium flower blooming in the north berm under the Swamp Oak tree. Yarrow is a perennial that doesn't mind hot, humid climates. They have fern-like, aromatic, medium green foliage, and tiny, long-lasting, yellow flowers that bloom throughout the summer on stems that reach approximately 2-3 feet tall. Yarrow flowers provide nectar and a habitat for ladybugs and butterflies. We hope you will take the time to visit the gardens by the gazebo and find this unique plant.

As my wife and I moved this past week from our 26 year home in the Benson neighborhood of Omaha to an apartment on the south side of Bellevue, we soon realized that we moved too much. We should have let go of more stuff before the move. I am reminded of the words of Corrie Ten Boom (who spent time in the German concentration camps during WWII); she encouraged us to "hold things loosely". The stuff that we accumulate in this world really is only temporary and we can't take it with us. How much better to concentrate on our relationships with God and with other people—that is what really has an eternal, lasting impact! By the way, anyone want some of my left-over stuff?
